COVID-19 & Feeding the Hungry Safety Protocol

ProduceGood is operating under specific safety precautions to support the growing need for food assistance throughout our community. Using common sense as a general guide, we ask all ProduceGood staff and volunteers to comply with the following: proper and regular hand washing, wearing gloves, covering the face, staying home if you feel ill, and sensitivity to your neighbors (social distancing). Together, we can increase safe access to nutrition for children and families during this uncertain time. We thank you for benefiting the well-being of our community.

Growers & Volunteers

If you are a grower picking fruit on your own property or a volunteer picking on someone else's property, you will:

- Keep a zero contact distance from others (6 feet minimum)
- Not enter anyone else's home and/or car
- Use gloves and face covering while picking fruit
- Make sure all fruit is free of stems and leaves
- Wipe down/sanitize all picker poles and clippers
- Use paper bags, cardboard boxes, and unwanted bags to hold fruit

Driving Volunteers

If you are transporting fruit from a property to a food bank or pantry, you will:

- Keep a zero contact distance from others (6 feet minimum)
- Not enter the homeowner's house or allow others in your car
- Wear gloves and face covering while collecting/loading bags/boxes into your vehicle
- If transfer of fruit (from our crates to other containers) must occur, have only one person transfer the citrus
- When delivering to the food bank or pantry, make best effort at no human contact (i.e. leave bags/boxes of fruit in the drop off area. Do not hand to another person. Wear your face cover and gloves)
- Receive day, time, and location drop off instruction and confirm delivery with PG. You are a volunteer representative of ProduceGood and we are an approved agency from whom the food banks will accept citrus donations.

We appreciate your dedication to the health of our community and following our guidelines while volunteering. For more complete information about the COVID-19 virus please visit: CDC
